New plan 'could boost town by £1.56 million'

TOWN leaders are due to decide whether to spend £10,000 on the first stages of a new vision for the Abingdon's future which could boost town coffers by £1.56 million.

Abingdon Town Council is voting on whether to start designing a neighbourhood plan at a meeting next Wednesday.

Details of what it would include have not yet been decided but it could comprise plans such as how the town's retail area should grow, how Abingdon Guildhall should change, and what could be done to ease traffic congestion.

Councils with a neighbourhood plan can claim 25 per cent of the money paid by developers to support local infrastructure, while those without claim only 15 per cent.

Council leader Sandy Lovatt said if the town's boundaries are redrawn to include the 1,000 homes in the north, the CIL would amount to £1.56million to invest in Abingdon.

He is spearheading the idea and has been supported by Vale of White Horse District Council leader Matthew Barber.

Cllr Lovatt said: "I'm in favour of a neighbourhood plan. It's a plan of how you want the town to develop.

"I'm having a bit of a struggle with my own party."

He added there are concerns from the Conservative group on the council about the cost of the plan, but that he was willing to explore the options before going ahead.

He estimated the total cost of a neighbourhood plan would be around £70,000, including £45,000 for a public referendum.

Council 'desperately sorry' over £23m short term cuts

ATTEMPTS to cut a further £23 million from Oxfordshire County Council's (OCC) budget by 2020.

were announced on Monday as it tries to save around £361m

By Alex Ballinger

council's reserves, bringing cuts from future years forward to 2016/17 and one-off reductions in spending in areas like its training budget, and the library service book fund.

The council also revealed it is proposing a 3.99 per cent increase in council tax from April, 0.1 per cent less than the amount allowed without a referendum.

OCC leader Ian Hudspeth said: "We had hoped our original savings options would be a worst-case scenario and that we would not therefore have to go ahead with them all.

"We are desperately sorry that we now have to consider these extensive savings"

"We will be doing everything we can to help communities manage the impact."

The council initially predicted it would need to find around £50m savings due to cuts from Government but announced in December it would need to slash an extra £20m from its budget.

A public consultation, titled Talking Oxfordshire, identified 95 savings options last year that amount to the £50m needed.

The new short-term proposals leave £11m left to find from 2017 to 2020.

The council will bring forward cuts to its trading standards budget from 2019/20 to 2016/17 to save £270,000.

It will also carry out a review of senior management sooner than planned to save £200,000.

OCC had also previously set aside £1.5m for the predicted increased costs of waste disposal, but now believes it only needs £1.4m, creating savings of £100,000.

Labour county councillor John Tanner said: "I think the cuts are devastating and so does the Tory cabinet.

"The county council cuts aren't inevitable. The national Government could easily make a more generous settlement to OCC."

County councils in England can raise council tax by up to four per cent without a referendum, with two per cent as the original limit with a further two allowed for spending on adult social care.

But OCC says the benefit of the increase is cancelled out because Government is not compensating councils for the estimated cost of the new National Living Wage.

Cllr Hudspeth added: "We want to try to protect the most vulnerable people in Oxfordshire.

"By which we mean those adults who need help with basic personal care and children at risk of abuse or neglect."

The council is due to firm up its budget on February 16 ready to be adopted in April.

News Bites

Weather alert

OXON: A cold weather alert has been issued for the whole of England and Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) is asking residents to check on their neighbours.

The Met Office put out its second highest warning (amber/level 3) on Tuesday and it runs until tomorrow afternoon.

Emergency planning officer at OCC Carole Mackay said: "When there's a cold weather alert of this nature we always ask residents to check if neighbours are okay – particularly if they are elderly or vulnerable."

The council also has been sending out gritters, which will cover 1,200 miles of road, the same distance as London to Iceland.

OCC grit all A, B and C roads while Highways England cover the A34, A43 and the M40.

Head-on crash

DIDCOT: Two people were injured in a head on collision between a car and a taxi on Tuesday evening.

South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) was called to the B4493 between Station Road and the A4130 at around 6.44pm.

SCAS spokesperson David Gallagher said the drivers of the vehicles sustained injuries, but one refused treatment and was discharged at the scene against the advice of the paramedics, while the other was taken to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital to be treated for chest injuries.

Fans create tribute beers to deceased Brit 'legends'

A PICTURE has been circulated online of two Wychwood brewery beer bottles featuring images of actor Alan Rickman and musician David Bowie who died recently from cancer.

But the Witney-based beer-maker has said the tribute beers were not made by them.

The designs are actually the work of John Davidson and Chris Epic-East.

John designed the Blackwych label, which features Mr Rickman as Harry Potter film series character Professor Snape.

While Chris designed the King Goblin bottle, inspired by Mr Bowie's portrayal of Jareth the Goblin King from the 1986 film Labyrinth.

The image went viral on Facebook after being shared by popular page The LAD Bible.

David said on Facebook: "The labels have nothing to do with the Wychwood brewery."

"I designed the Blackwych label and Chris Epic-East designed the King Goblin."

"I simply printed them and stuck them on to real bottles. I am a fan of the brewery and of the two British legends that unfortunately left us this month."

Spokesperson for Wychwood Jeremy Eaton confirmed the designs were not made by the brewery.

Mr Bowie died on Sunday January 10 and Mr Rickman last Thursday, both from cancer and both aged 69.

Stag do pledge signs leader up to muddy Monster Race

THE leader of Abingdon's district council is set to tackle barbed wire crawls, tyre walls and a sandbag slog to raise money for an Oxfordshire disability charity in April.

Matthew Barber, leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, agreed to tackle the 5km Monster Race obstacle run just after New Year while at stag party.

By Alex Ballinger

He is raising money for SpecialEffect, which uses video games and technology to improve the lives of disability sufferers.

Mr Barber said: "I was talked into it on a stag do, which is never a good place to agree to anything.

"I signed up for it when everyone else was making their New Year's resolutions.

"It's all for a really good cause." SpecialEffect use devices ranging from modified joypads to eye-control to help everyone enjoy gaming, regardless of disability.

Obstacles on the run will include crawling through thick mud under barbed wire, scaling a wooden structure known as 'Monsterphobia' and carrying a sandbag for part of the course.

Mr Barber has set his fundraising target at £500 but hopes constituents and council colleagues will help him get beyond his goal.

He added: "The 5k is not a problem. It's the obstacles I'm worried about. I can go out running in the countryside but short of crawling through the mud I can't really practice.

"I'm hoping as long as I'm fit enough I can make it through."

The Monster Race will take place at Cornbury Park near Charlbury on April 16, close to SpecialEffect's offices in The Stable Block.

After setting up a Just Giving page to raise money councillor Barber has raised £60 so far.

Fundraiser at SpecialEffect Nick Streeter, said: "I met Matthew for the first time a few months ago through one of our ambassadors.

"It's fantastic. We've got over 40 people signing up for the Monster Race. We'd love to get that to 100 or more.

"It should be a great event with loads of mud."

more say in the development and would increase the percentage of the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) it can take from the developers.

The council's finance committee last week agreed to set aside £10,000 to explore the idea, which is to be funded by a £5 increase in council tax on Band D houses.

But a full vote on whether to proceed is to be made at full council from 7pm at Abingdon Guildhall.

Councillor Barber said: "I encourage all parishes to look at neighbourhood plans.

"It gives a little bit more control to towns and parishes. It's a good way of getting people from the community involved.

"And there's a financial benefit with the CIL."

Town councillor Samantha Bowring said: "I'm very much in support.

"It's an opportunity for all residents to have their say.

"I think the way forward is to set a clear budget."

Cllr Bowring suggested a budget of £30,000, excluding the cost of the referendum.

She added: "I know it's a lot of money.

"But you can involve people in the community who understand these things.

"That can bring the cost down."

The plan would set out aims for the economic, social and environmental growth.

Cllr Lovatt said he would like to see Abingdon become a hub for tourism and retail.

Catwalk show

ABINGDON: An Abingdon theatre is hosting its first fashion show in April to raise funds for running costs.

The show hosted by Unicorn Theatre, called The Rite of Spring, will include clothes from shops in Oxford's Covered Market on April 15 and 16 at the Abbey Building in Thames Street.

Aspiring models can audition at the Unicorn Theatre in Checker Walk on Saturday, January 30, from 2pm.

New road plans

SUTTON COURtenay: A planning application has been submitted to produce recycled asphalt, create a new road and reduce the size of a pond by filling it in with ash at Hanson Aggregates near Appleford Road.

The part-retrospective application was made to Vale of White Horse District Council by Oxfordshire County Council on January 15.

A target decision date has been set as February 5.

Green belt walk

ABINGDON: Local countryside campaign groups are hosting a 'protect our Vale Green Belt Walk' this Sunday.

The gentle 2.5-mile walk from Radley to Sunningwell is ahead of the Vale of White Horse District Council Local Plan examination in February.

It starts at 10am at St James Church in Radley.

Man found dead in gas container

AN Abingdon worker found in a gas container died at a science facility in Harwell Campus.

Russell Walker, 42, of Crosslands Drive, was an experimental hall coordinator at Diamond Light Source in Femi Avenue before his death on January 5.

At the opening of his inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in Oxford last Thursday, assistant coroner Alison Thompson said Mr Walker was found by a colleague in a gas container in an industrial gas storage area. She said: "At 1.10pm, he was pronounced dead by a paramedic with the cause of death ruled to be from carbon monoxide poisoning."

Andrew Harrison, CEO of Diamond Light Source, said: "Russell was an esteemed member of the Diamond team and well known to many of us. He will be sorely missed."

Diamond Light Source spokesman Isabelle Boscaro-Clarke said: "We are not free to discuss the details of the case until the coroner has issued the result of his inquest."

A full inquest is due on May 17.

Two cautioned after Barton flat drug raid

TWO people including a woman in a reindeer onesie have been cautioned for the possession of cannabis following a police raid at a flat in Barton on Friday.

Ten officers had to smash their way through the door of the property in Underhill Circus, known to police as having been used as a drugs supply hub for 10 years.

They arrested a 42-year-old man and a 30-year-old woman on suspicion of possessing a controlled substance with intent to supply.

The officers knocked on the property's door just after 9am, and after no reply, used a hydraulic door ramp to get into the flat, where they discovered cannabis and crack cocaine.

The arrests were made shortly afterwards.

The woman was escorted into a police car while wearing a reindeer onesie.

By Loughlan Campbell

However, the following day police told the Guardian that the duo had been given a caution for the offence of the possession of cannabis.

No charges were brought in relation to the discovery of crack cocaine at the property.

Barton's neighbourhood sergeant Martyn Williams told the Guardian at the scene: "I'm very happy with the operation that was carried out today and it appears to have been well executed as we have made two arrests.

"We hope that it will lead to convictions following a successful investigation and I'd like to offer my thanks to the community who have raised their concerns to us about drugs in the area.

"They helped provide information for us and we hope this will lead to a successful outcome for their sake."

Sgt Williams added that police had further information on other potential drug supply hubs in the Barton area and that they would be conducting similar operations this year.

He continued: "Thanks to the information provided by the community we will be looking to carry out more warrants like this later this year so this is a warning to those in this area that what happened today could be happening to you soon."

Sgt Williams claimed that the flat had been known by police to have seen various dealers use the property for drugs supply over the last 10 years.

Eight of the officers were from Cowley Police Station with the remaining two from the force's joint operations unit, who wrenched the door open.

The flat was subsequently swept for evidence by officers before the arrested duo was escorted from the flat in handcuffs and taken to Abingdon

Police Station.

A34 Milton work consultation open

OXON: A public consultation has been launched on changes to the A34 Milton Interchange near Didcot.

Work started in January last year and is still underway to revamp the junction.

The Oxfordshire County Council work is due to be finished this Spring.

A hamburger roundabout is being built which will see a road running through the centre of the roundabout allowing cars from the A4130 Didcot to join the A34 northbound more easily.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) has launched a public consultation on two new details to be added to the works - banning cars from Park Drive - the Milton Park direction - from using the through-route, and adding yellow clearway boxes to parts of the junction.

The consultation runs until February 19 at consultations.oxfordshire.gov.uk

Council 'could be sued' as Botley plan adopted

A LOCAL councillor has warned that Vale of White Horse District Council could be sued by residents after it adopted a blueprint for the redevelopment of Botley's West Way on Monday morning.

The council adopted the Botley Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) amid objections from residents who said the document acts beyond its brief.

But the leader of the Liberal Democrat opposition, Debby Hallett, said the document's approval could leave the council open to legal action from those opposing the scheme.

By Alex Ballinger

Cllr Hallett said: "I sent a letter to the cabinet this morning identifying some of the concerns I have."

"I'm disappointed."

"I oppose unsound decisions and I'll continue to do that."

An SPD is a guideline on planning and development in an area.

Lawyers acting on behalf of the West Way Community Concern campaign group wrote a letter to the council's chief executive David Buckle last November, arguing the SPD acted outside its brief.

The council's cabinet voted to defer the decision in light of the solicitor's letter back then, but formally adopted the document at a meeting at their Milton Park offices earlier this week.

Cllr Hallett added: "They took out reference to the emerging Local Plan 2031, because it hasn't been ratified, so they weren't making new planning policy."

"But they didn't change the way the sustainability appraisal was done."

A previous application by developers Doric Properties for a £100 million development of chain stores and a cinema at the West Way shopping centre was rejected by the Vale in December 2014.

Developer Mace has since taken over plans for the site, and is due to submit a planning application in the next month.

West Way Community Concern secretary Mary Gill said: "We're not opposed to the development, but we're opposed to the document."

"The SPD will allow Mace to submit the same planning application for approval."

"We're disappointed."

"We the public, wish to be able to trust our local authority, but the trust has been in short supply."

Vale published a draft Botley SPD in August earmarking the scale and land to be redeveloped, from Botley Baptist Church in Westminster Way to Field House sheltered Housing in West Way.

Vale cabinet member for planning policy, Michael Murray, said: "You're never going to please everyone."

"We must base the SPD on planning policy rather than the opinions of a small number of people."

Mace spokesperson David McFarlane said: "We have noted the adoption of the SPD and we look forward to continuing to work with the community on our plans for West Way which we hope to submit in early February."

The council's cabinet unanimously voted in favour of approving the document.

Woman is deported for operating a brothel

A 24-YEAR-OLD woman was deported to Romania last month after she was found guilty of managing a brothel.

Police and Oxford City Council executed a warrant in December 2014 on the property in Rymers Lane, Cowley, for a House in Multiple Occupation (HMO) inspection where it was suspected women were working as prostitutes.

Alexandra-Valentina Mirea was questioned voluntarily as the tenancy holder and was found to have links to brothels at Walton Street in Leicester, and Green End Road and Cromwell Road in Cambridge.

She appeared at Peterborough Crown Court on November 20 last year and was found guilty of four offences of keeping/managing/acting/assisting in the management of a brothel.

She was sentenced to 12 months in prison and ordered to pay a victim surcharge of £100 and costs of £900, before being deported to Romania on December 17.

PC Chrisy Jupp, from the Cowley neighbour policing team, said: "This is the first conviction in relation to a brothel in Oxford that we have had in a long time."

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Decision on hospital care 'downgrade' to be debated

COUNCILLORS are being asked to approve plans to "downgrade" health services in Chipping Norton to save almost £240,000.

Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet will decide on Tuesday, January 26, whether to use care provided by the Orders of St John Care Trust rather than the NHS to look after intermediate care patients in Chipping Norton Hospital from April.

These are patients who no longer need to be in an acute hospital, but are not fit enough to go home.

The move comes after a two-month council consultation over the plans.

Campaigners Chipping Norton and District Hospital Action Group say the council is being short-sighted and have fired off a letter to council leader Ian Hudspeth.

It says instead of putting patients in different care homes, with lesser qualified staff, the hospital site could provide all

By Jayne Smith

14 intermediate beds and necessary clinics on one site, and reduce the need for staff such as district nurses and physiotherapists to travel around.

Action group secretary Clive Hill said the Chipping Norton hospital site "is just waiting to be used to its full potential..."

He said an NHS staffed facility could reduce bed blocking, could help minimise people's stay in hospital and was a "hub of expertise".

He added: "In no circumstances should there be any downgrade to the service provision at Chipping Norton until the 2016 county-wide review is completed."

The group has been backed by Cllr James Mills, West Oxfordshire District Council's cabinet member for health, who said there would be less treatments available locally and residents would have to travel to Oxford or Banbury.

He said: "Without this provision, larger hospitals are unable to transfer patients to local care after treatment, resulting in bed-blocking and the higher cost of keeping people in high intensity acute care hospitals such as the John Radcliffe or the Horton."

Cllr Judith Heathcoat, cabinet member for adult social care said: "At a time of unpre-dicted financial pressure on both social care and health it is important that we spend public funds prudently and achieve the best value for money we can whilst maintaining high quality services.

"This proposal would enable us to keep the same high standard of care patients receive now at a lower cost."

Services currently cost £966,482 and would be reduced to 728,600 a year.

Pullman protest prompts festival rethink

OXFORD Literary Festival have announced they will consider paying authors who speak at events after Cumnor-based author Philip Pullman resigned in protest last week.

• Philip Pullman

His Dark Materials trilogy author Mr Pullman said he was stepping down as a patron of the festival last Wednesday because organisers do not pay authors.

But the festival issued a statement on Tuesday to say they will discuss payments for speakers after this year's festival in April.

Event spokesperson Ralph Turner said: "Once April's festival is over, we will meet with all interested parties to discuss how to achieve payment of fees for all speakers while safe-guarding the presence of our record-levels of unknown writers for 2017 and beyond."

More than 500 speakers are due to attend this year's festival including TV personality

Julian Clary, children's author Jacqueline Wilson and comedian David Baddiel.

Mr Pullman tweeted on January 13: "Because of the Oxford Literary Festival's attitude to paying speakers (they don't) I can't remain as a Patron any longer. I've resigned."

The festival organisers have defended not paying speakers, saying it would cost £75,000 to pay those speaking this year.

Mr Turner added: "We acknowledge that Philip Pullman has been an extraordinary supporter and ally of the festival in his role as patron.

"We have always had enormous respect for his views and commitment and we thank him sincerely for all he has done for us."

Shop front refit

BICESTER: Sainsbury's have applied to refit shopfronts throughout Crown Walk shopping centre.

The precinct, which dates back to the 1980s, has struggled to let shop units in the past few years. Now owner Sainsbury's want to "rejuvenate" the area to attract new stores.

The supermarket chain, which opened its Bicester store in 2013, said the work would mean the units will have a consistent appearance.

1940s throwback

BICESTER: People are invited to don 1940s costume and step back in time as Oxfordshire Youth Big Band perform the music of Glenn Miller.

Taking place at St Edburg's Church, Church Street, on Friday, February 12, from 7pm, tickets cost £10 for adults and children under 16 are free.

Estate given a winter clean

BICESTER'S King's End estate has been given a clean-up this week as part of Cherwell District Council's 'blitz' initiative.

The council's green team targeted litter, fly-tipping and dog mess, graffiti and abandoned vehicles.

It came as Cherwell's lead member for clean and green Cllr Debbie Pickford urged residents to "take responsibility for their actions" and clear up after themselves and their pets.

She said: "Since we first launched the blitz initiative 10 years ago we have removed hundreds of tonnes of rubbish by hand and through the use of sweepers.

However, it seems that even after 10 years our services are still needed as people continue to litter, graffiti and spoil the environment for others.

"We know lots of people take pride in where they live but there are still the odd few who ruin things for so many.

"For our 10th year it would be great if we could finally get everybody to take responsibility for their actions."

On Friday, officers will host a recycling roadshow at the shops off Shakespeare Drive from 3pm.

Residents will be able to get advice on waste and recycling.

Charities back trust despite CQC concerns

OXFORD Health NHS Foundation Trust has received backing from mental health charities in Oxfordshire after it was ruled responsive, and well-led.

By Loughlan Campbell

In the report, it was stated that "on the whole, services were safe" but that the trust had "pockets of poor practice" within it.

There were concerns over the trust's care plan system for patients which were regarded as "not always personalised", concluding that it "required improvement" in safety and effectiveness.

Martin Realey, chief executive of mental health charity Restore, said: "I think it's a glowing report and it shows that there has been long-term progress made within the trust in terms of people skills.

"The most important thing when dealing with mental health users is to have good people skills and this report definitely shows improvement."

The report listed the trust's ability to respond to people as "outstanding" in some areas, and that the trust "had the right policies in place to support staff in their work".

Anne Clarke, head of housing at Oxfordshire Mind, said:

"The rating achieved by Oxford Health is encouraging as it was noted by inspectors that the organisation has a strong track record of working in partnership with others, which we endorse."

It also stated inspectors found "good examples of emotional support such as bereavement support and counselling services", and rated its children and young people's services highly.

Stuart Bell, chief executive of Oxford Health, said: "There are some very positive messages about the trust overall from the inspectors in the reports, particularly in three of the five domains.

"There are some areas where we think we need to do more, around 'safety' and 'effectiveness' in particular.

"But the vast majority of the areas for improvement were things we recognised and have plans in place to address."

The trust is currently developing a patient involvement and engagement strategy to address concerns about its care plan system, which is due to be implemented by spring this year.

Tributes paid to ex-Oxford councillor

COUNCILLORS have paid tribute to former Oxfordshire county councillor Barbara Gatehouse, who died on January 12 aged 89.

Cllr Gatehouse served as Labour councillor for Blackbird Leys from 2001 to 2005 and Leys and Lye from 2005 to 2009.

Leader of the county council's Labour group, Liz Brighouse, said: "She was a very dear friend and colleague who had a great sense of humour.

"Barbara was a very hard working councillor. She put in long hours for the people she represented and on subjects she cared about, such as homes for older people and adult social care."

During her time on the council, Cllr Gatehouse served on a number of committees including the health and community services scrutiny committee.

She was also a city councillor, holding the role of Sheriff in 1990 and Lord Mayor in 1993.

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council, Ian Hudspeth, said: "She was very clearly passionate about the areas of Oxford she served.

"Although we may have differed politically I knew she had her community at the centre of everything she worked for."

Controversial warehouse plan looks set to be approved

PLANS to build giant warehouses on a corner of Bicester have been recommended for approval tonight despite strong objections.

Albion Land wants to build a 53,000sqm business park on farmland off Middleton Stoney Road and Howes Lane, Bicester.

The site could include offices, general industrial units and storage and distribution warehouses up to 16.75m high.

The developer said the business park could create up to 1,000 jobs.

But the plans have received a string of objections.

In some 78 letters received by Cherwell District Council, people have raised concerns over noise, air and light pollution impacting on residents in the nearby Greenwood Homes estate.

Residents also say the height of the proposed buildings is "unsuitable" for the area and raised concerns over increased traffic the site would create.

All local county councillors – Michael Waine, Les Sibley, Lawrie Stratford, Catherine Fulljames and Timothy Hallchurch – have also opposed the development.

In a letter, Mr Sibley said the site should be restricted to general industrial units and offices.

He said: "This would be more conducive to attracting high tech and high skilled jobs and would be better suited to meeting the greater employment needs and employment target numbers of 1,000 jobs for this area of the ECO development."

Bicester Town Council, Middleton Stoney and Chesterton parish councils and the Bicester branch of CPRE said storage and distribution warehouses were "inappropriate" for the location and raised concerns about increased numbers of HGVs accessing the site.

Oxfordshire County Council said if the business park is built before the re-aligned Howes Lane, which is yet to be approved, it could have "a severe traffic impact".

Sustainability charity Bioregional, which is working with Cherwell council and eco town developer A2Dominion, said it did not support the application as the development was not green enough.

It said: "It is important for the application to show how the development will act as a 'green gateway' as defined in the NW Bicester Masterplan and will provide an interesting and welcoming entrance to the wider development.

"This is currently not shown within any of the submitted information."

The application is due to be decided by Cherwell's planning committee today, Thursday, January 21.

Energy grants

BICESTER: Residents can get help to improve energy efficiency in their homes thanks to grants from Cherwell District Council.

The council has teamed up with the Oxfordshire Affordable Warmth Network to provide cash towards boiler replacements, loft or wall insulation, draught-proofing work and door and window replacements.

School's name

BICESTER: The new school at North West Bicester's eco town will be called Gagle Brook Primary School.

A consultation involving residents, councillors and developer A2Dominion decided to name the school after Gagle Brook, which runs across the eco town sites.

The school, which is part of the White Horse Federation - an academy trust - is due to open in September.

Lauren Costello, of the White Horse Federation, said: "Gagle Brook Primary School and its staff will reflect the beliefs of the people who choose to live in its vicinity.

"We have ensured all decisions of name and identity were decided through active community involvement and we will continue to work with parents, governors and key partnerships to grow an outstanding school."

Antiques centre burgled

BURGLARS broke in through the roof of a West Oxfordshire antiques centre and stole jewellery.

The incident happened at the Quiet Woman Antique Centre, in Oxford Road, Southcombe, near Chipping Norton, on Thursday, January 14 between 11pm and 11.30pm.

Police said thieves broke into cabinets and stole jewellery, including at least one watch.

Officers said no-one was in the shop at the time, and that they are appealing for witnesses. Det Sgt Richard White, from Witney CID, said: "I would like to speak to anybody who saw any suspicious vehicles or people in the area during the evening or any vehicles driving at speed in the area."

At this time there is no description of the offenders.

Anyone with any information should contact the 24-hour Thames Valley Police enquiry centre on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Leaders back driverless cars on Oxford roads

PLANS to use driverless cars on Oxford roads were backed by city leaders during a meeting last week.

Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth raised the idea in a presentation at a meeting of leaders and major companies at the Said Business School last Thursday.

He said: "It's something I'd like to see. It would be interesting to see how driverless cars interact with driven cars, because a lot of accidents are human error."

Oxford University has been working on the technology at Begbroke Science Park near Yarnton. Engineers unveiled their Bowler Wildcat 4X4 driverless car in 2011.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "The technology is developing quite quickly. We know we've got experts at Oxford and Oxford Brookes [universities] and if they want to test them out in Oxford we should welcome it. It's still about 4 or 5 years away, but I think they'll be on the roads by the end of this decade."

The Mobile Robotics Group at Oxford University is spearheading the technology led by Professor Paul Newman.

Driverless cars use lasers and cameras to map their surroundings so cars 'remember' roads they have driven on.

Two new Oxford train stations open by 2022?

TWO extra train stations for passengers could open at Oxford Science Park and Cowley linking them to Oxford and the train line to London Marylebone by 2022, according to Oxford City Council leader Bob Price.

The idea was brought up by a Chiltern Railways director at a meeting held on Thursday night at the Said Business School in Oxford's Park End Street.

By Alex Ballinger

Graham Cross, business development director at Chiltern, said once the planned connection from Kidlington's Oxford Parkway to Oxford Railway Station is complete they will look at extending the line to the south of the city.

Councillor Price said: "It's a must."

"A lot more jobs will be opening up there because there are still some empty units."

"We need to be able to get more people there so they don't just have to use buses."

Chiltern ran a one-day test in 2014, running a passenger train between Oxford Science Park Station near Littlemore and Cowley Branch Station by the Mini plant.

Currently the Cowley station is only used by freight trains and the science park station is unused.

Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) leader Ian Hudspeth was one of the passengers.

Speaking at the business school to representatives from rail and housing companies, Mr Cross said: "We're looking to expand Oxford's rail service."

"It's not yet a project, it's a prospect. But this will be the next area of development."

"There's a very significant demand to improve Oxford's rail service."

Chiltern Railways currently operate the line between London Marylebone and the new Oxford Parkway station, which opened in October.

The new line between Oxford Parkway station and Oxford Railway Station is due to open on December 12 according to Chiltern managing director Dave Penney.

It had been earmarked to open this Spring, but Chiltern Railways confirmed the delays yesterday (Wednesday January 20).

Councillor Hudspeth said: "I'm 100 per cent behind that idea. I can see the appeal. It's difficult to get around that side of town."

The idea was discussed at a meeting of Oxford leaders and delegates from Oxfordshire housing developers, law firms and architects, hosted by the Constructing Excellence Oxford Club.

Discussions focused on projects and development across Oxfordshire.

Amongst the speakers were councillors Price and Hudspeth and the MP for Oxford East and Abingdon Nicola Blackwood.

Plans to trial driverless cars on Oxford's roads were also debated.

Hit-and-run arrest

CHIPPING NORTON: A man has been arrested on suspicion of causing serious injury by driving dangerously and failing to stop after a collision on Friday.

A black moped and another vehicle, which left the scene, collided at about 1pm.

The male moped driver suffered serious injuries and was taken to hospital by ambulance.

A 45-year-old man from Carmarthenshire in Wales has been arrested and bailed until March 27.

Investigating officer Sergeant Graham Holt said: "We are particularly interested in anyone who saw a black moped or a black car at the relevant times." Call 101 with information.

More women marrying

OXON: More women are choosing to have same-sex weddings than men, according to an Oxford University study.

The study also says there was no rush for couples in civil partnerships to marry, as during the first half of 2015, only 5,300 couples converted their partnership to a marriage.

Of all same-sex couples who formed a civil in partnership by June last year, it reveals one in eight had converted their partnership to a same-sex marriage by that time.

Drink-drive rise

OXON: The number of people arrested in the Thames Valley for drink driving over the Christmas period has increased by 19 per cent.

Police revealed last Friday that they arrested 325 people in the region for drink driving between December 1 and January 1, with 273 arrests made the previous year.

Cyclist accident

MARCHAM: A cyclist who was killed in a road traffic collision on New Year's Eve was not wearing his helmet when hit by a car, an inquest revealed on Thursday.

Anthony Woods, 52, from Abingdon, was cycling along the A415 to Marcham at about 9.40pm when he was hit.

It was ruled that the father-of-three died from a severe traumatic head injury on New Year's Day.

Student burglary

OXFORD: A laptop, iPod and iPad were stolen in a burglary of a student house in Iffley Road last Thursday at 9.45pm.

Police believe that the offender climbed over an adjoining garden fence to gain access to the rear garden before gaining entry via an insecure rear door.

Community helps with centre revamp

• Annie Sloan pitching in to paint the centre

AROUND 30 people from East Oxford and beyond joined forces last week to put the finishing touches to renovating East Oxford Community Centre.

Residents joined paint and colour expert Annie Sloan in decorating the walls of the centre and re-upholstering the furniture as part of a £15,000 revamp funded by Oxford City Council.

The council took over management of the community hub in September amid heated opposition from the East Oxford Community Association, who formerly ran the site.

Mrs Sloan, who owns Annie Sloan paint shop in Cowley Road, said: "It's been amazing. Councils don't have the money to put into these centres, so it's down to people like us to try and help."

"This is a very community-based area."

The Annie Sloan team is planning to help renovate 25 community spaces around the world to mark the 25th anniversary of the shop's opening.

Decoration of the centre in Princes Street, just off Cowley Road, took place on Wednesday and Thursday last week between 9am and 5pm.

Work was finished just in time for the famous music and poetry night The Catweazle Club.

Agata Ciesielska, 33, was amongst the volunteers helping to re-paint the centre.

The interior designer from Summertown said: "I haven't lived in Oxford for long so this is a great chance to meet people."

"I love painting and I love a workshop."

"It's a really a great idea. We can work together to do something for the community."

The centre hosts a range of community activities including dance classes, karate, and asylum seeker drop-in sessions.

A 1,600-signature petition was presented to Oxford City Council last month calling for the centre to be returned to the control of local residents, but the call was rejected.

Council board member for communities Christine Simm said: "What Annie has managed to do has got a lot of people inspired. I think it's going to look incredible."

£21k fine for Oxford landlord

A LANDLORD from Oxford has been fined £21,000 and ordered to pay £4,869 in costs for renting houses to multiple occupants without the correct licence.

Mohammed Yousef, 58, of Iffley Road, appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on January 6 after two of his properties were found to be houses in multiple occupancy (HMO), with up to eight people living in each house.

Bob Price, leader of Oxford City Council, said: "Some landlords are taking advantage of the city's housing shortage to rent out unlicensed and badly maintained properties to multiple occupants."

The two properties on Dene Road in Iffley Valley were also found to be poorly maintained, with mould and damp discovered in one of them.

The council began investigations into Yousef in May last year when he failed to renew the licences for his properties.

He then didn't respond to the council's requests to submit an application for an HMO license.

Cllr Price added: "I am pleased by the substantial fine charged in this particular case."

"It serves as a deterrent to other landlords who are operating unlicensed HMOs or considering doing so."

Need not Greed protest against housing plans

COUNTRYSIDE campaigners in Oxfordshire have banded together to offer an 'alternative vision' for the county's future.

The Need not Greed Oxon partnership was launched last Thursday and so far has 14 members including the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) Oxfordshire, Wantage and Grove Campaign Group and Woodstock Action Group.

The group aims to challenge the county's growth plan of 100,000 new houses by 2031, which it said would sacrifice rural Oxfordshire and has criticised the aims of a local economic group.

Director of CPRE Oxfordshire, Helen Marshall, said: "Unless we succeed in challenging the county's unrealistic and inappropriate growth targets, local residents around the county will find themselves battling against more and more [planning] applications."

According to the partnership, planned housing in Oxfordshire would be the equivalent of two new cities the size of Oxford, lead to 85,000 new jobs and 200,000 more people. The group has set out its vision, opposing a 'growth at all costs' approach to housebuilding.

Need not Greed also criticised the Oxfordshire Local Enterprise (OxLEP) Partnership, which aims to develop the county's economy.

Chairman of partnership member South Oxfordshire Sustainability, John Gordon, said: "Current planning policies are warped and removed from local democratic control. They are driven by OxLEP's obsession with economic growth at almost any cost, largely ignoring the long-term damage to our environment and to rural communities."

Chairman of ROAR (Rural Oxfordshire Action Rally), Peter Jay, said: "We want to see the right houses, in the right place, for the right people and at the right cost – this campaign will help us to achieve this Oxfordshire."

OxLEP CEO Nigel Tipple said the county's housing target was not set by his organisation but by its strategic housing market assessment by consultants GL Hearn on behalf of the planning authorities.

The first action Need not Greed will be involved in is a Green Belt walk from Radley to Sunningwell on Sunday, January 24.

£675,000 boost

OXFORD: A total of £675,000 has been awarded to senior Oxford researchers to improve NHS care in the county.

The John Radcliffe Hospital's Oxford Biomedical Research Centre and the Oxford Biomedical Research Unit in Musculoskeletal Disease at the Botnar Research Centre in Headington, both part of Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, are set to receive the funds from the National Institute for Health Research.

The units will receive the funds over three years, to be shared amongst 15 researchers.

Homes approved

KINGSTON BAGPUIZE: A plan for 280 homes in an Oxfordshire village was given the go-ahead last Wednesday despite objections from local councils.

The scheme for land south of the A420 and east of the A415 in Kingston Bagpuize was approved by Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee at a meeting last night at The Beacon in Portway, Wantage.

Council planning officer Stuart Walker recommended councillors to approve it.

Kingston Bagpuize with Southmoor Parish Council had objected to the plan, saying it was unsustainable as more than 700 homes were planned for the village including this scheme.

Parish chairman Brian Forster said: "It will destroy the village and the sense of community that has existed here for the last couple of centuries."

Five residents also submitted letters of objection to the Vale airing concerns about the number of houses, the impact on local schools and a shortage of doctors in the area.

Competition

WIN tickets to see Mrs Henderson Presents

DON'T miss MRS HENDERSON PRESENTS, the hilarious, brand-new, five-star musical based on the much loved film that starred Dame Judi Dench and Bob Hoskins, as it makes its West End debut in February 2016 having left critics in raptures at the Theatre Royal Bath.

It's London, 1937, and recently widowed eccentric, Laura Henderson, is looking for a way of spending her time and money. After acquiring and renovating the Windmill Theatre, she hires feisty impresario Vivian Van Damm to present a bill of non-stop variety acts. But as war looms something more is required to boost morale and box office... Mrs Henderson comes up with the idea of The Windmill Girls - glamorous young women posing as nude statues - and audiences flock!

With book and direction by the Tony Award-winning Terry Johnson (La Cage Aux Folles), choreography by Andrew Wright (Singin' in the Rain, Guys and Dolls), lyrics by the multi-

A SUMMER wedding offers some gorgeous wedding theme possibilities from elegant to feminine wedding day styles.

Before considering flowers, dresses, decoration, invitations, outfit, it is first of all vital to consider what you want your day to be: super stylish, cool and relaxed, rustic, urban, retro, vintage or romantic.

Cherry Blossoms

Cherry blossoms stand for virtue and new beginnings. Have a thick layer of flower petals carpeting the aisle. For centrepieces, use compact flowers like hydrangeas or peonies with crystal-beaded willow for dramatic height, and scatter petals generously.

Hand your bridesmaids parasols, or fans. Coordinate all your gowns with beautiful, rich brocade sashes. To add a bit of glow, hang round paper lanterns from the ceiling.

WEDDINGS at The Windmill RESTAURANT & CARVERY

The Windmill Restaurant and Carvery is the perfect venue for any size wedding reception. The dining area within the restaurant itself can cater for over 150 guests. If using the beautiful grounds, with views over the Windrush Valley, the numbers can be increased to 200 or more, depending on marquee sizes. (Not supplied.)

- Lovely traditional carvery menu
- Great location with outstanding views
- Plenty of space for outdoor marquee receptions
- No neighbours to worry about!!
- Ample parking

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Elevant aims to elevate its name in eyes of music fans

YOU could be excused for not having heard of rock band Elevant.

But, despite that, the members of the three-piece will be aiming to make their voices heard when they perform at The Wheatsheaf in Oxford on Thursday, January 30.

Since their inception in 2014, the three musicians - Michael Edward (guitar and vocals), Tom Shand (drums) and Hannah Lodge (bass) - have released two albums, with their third album, 'There is a Tide', due to be released in March.

Lead singer Michael Edward told the Guardian: "I originally formed the band as a recording project and just found the best musicians I knew to play with me.

"I had lived with Tom the previous year, and after our first bassist Joe had to move away, we poached Hannah from the band Indigo Moon because we thought she was tops.

"We didn't know her all that well at the time but touring changes that very fast. We're practically all family now."

Since settling on the hard rock, post-punk genre, the three musicians will be travelling across the UK to make their name known among music fans.

By James Richings

Their original self-written tracks, with the songs being produced, recorded and released under their own record label Elevant Music Limited, proves that Michael, Tom and Hannah plan on being in the music business for many years to come.

And with the group aiming to create a reputation of having some of the most fun shows available, their eagerness to go on tour shows, with their gig in Oxford being the first of 14 planned shows.

"We called ourselves Elevant because elephants are cool animals but if you call your band that, you become very hard to Google," Michael said.

"Everyone will see three very sweaty people giving a tight, loud as hell rock and roll show with lots of passion," he also added. "If you want an approximation of our sound, I guess you could say we're psychedelic? But we're not really. We're just odd. You can tell our iPods go on forever."

This is the band's first gig in Oxford. Doors at the High Street pub open at 7pm and tickets cost £3.50.

Tribute show

ULTIMATE Genesis will be visiting The Mill Arts Centre in Banbury on Saturday, January 30.

The tribute band will showcase some of Genesis' most popular hits, performing hits from eight Genesis albums.

The concert starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £16.50.

Comedy night

AN improvisation comedy night will be raising laughs at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Saturday, January 23.

The Noise Next Door: Noise in the Hood will see a group of actors take the audience's suggestions and act them out.

The Station Road gig starts at 8pm and tickets cost £14.50.

Playing hits

A Roy Orbison tribute show will be visiting the New Theatre Oxford this Saturday, January 23.

Musician Barry Steele will be performing as the late singer who would have turned 80 this April.

Audience members at the George Street theatre will hear tracks such as 'Pretty Woman,' and 'Crying'.

Tickets cost £23.90 and the show starts at 7.30pm.

Basic car maintenance courses at Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs

Free to our customers

Owning a car is not always simple – but basic car maintenance is!

Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs will be running free evening 'basic car maintenance classes' in 2016. Open to men and women, please bring in your own car, so we can show you where everything is and you never have the embarrassment of calling on roadside assistance for a minor problem again. Classes will be once a month from 7pm till 8pm on the following dates.

- Tuesday 9th February
- Wednesday 9th March
- Thursday 7th April
- Monday 9th May

The course will include checking:

- Oil
- Water & windscreens wash levels
- Antifreeze
- Tyre pressure & tread depths
- Light bulbs
- Windscreens wiper blades

We will also give you some advice on how often you should be checking these things and some professional tips about your car and what to look out for in specific vehicles.

Plus it will give you a chance to talk to a qualified vehicle technician one to one to ask any specific questions you have regarding the basic maintenance of your vehicle.

I can still remember the excitement of passing my test age 17 and buying my first car for £500. It was a Renault 4 with a funny gear stick that came out of the dashboard. My dad was a writer and worked for the super car classics magazine at the time. So he regularly had some amazing sports cars on the drive for him to test drive and write about. My Renault 4 looked rather embarrassing next to these beauties, but I took the chance to spend more time with my dad and learn some basic maintenance techniques. I could already change a tyre and wanted to understand how the engine worked. Several weekend and after school sessions later and I could check the oil level, tyre pressure and treads, check and change spark plugs, brake fluid and discs and a whole host of other maintenance type tasks.

I'm not a mechanic, but that first year of car ownership taught me a lot of things that I have since taken for granted. I enjoy having a basic knowledge of cars, as it makes the bi-annual trip to the garage a lot less daunting. I like the confidence it gives me, doing the various checks before a long journey. Especially now that I have children, whose safety I take very seriously! It's only recently, working for Martin Gilbert's some of my friends, both male and female have confessed their lack of confidence with their own cars and how they would like to know more. We would like to try and simplify your car for you, so you know your way around the basics and therefore help to reduce the risk of major failures. Regular maintenance should also help reduce your annual motoring costs by keeping your vehicle in its best condition.

All that said every time I turn off into an industrial estate to get to the garage or similar I still get that strange feeling of being in an alien environment. I don't know what it is about industrial estates that can be so intimidating, but they are not the most welcoming of places. Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs in Abingdon would like to try and change that perception and make a visit to the Radley Road industrial Estate in Abingdon less daunting. We hope that you will be pleasantly surprised at how clean, friendly and welcoming the place is. A family run business opened by Martin Gilbert in 1982, now run by two of his children Richard and Wendy, the family ethics are still very strong. A member of the Retail motor industry federation 'Trust My Garage' scheme and the foxy lady drivers club, we really care about every customer as an individual.

We want to help people feel more confident around their own cars and when dealing with garages. So, Richard Gilbert has agreed to trial a series of free car maintenance workshops. Once a month in the evening after the garage has closed from 7pm till 8pm, so people can come in after work. You shouldn't need to go into a garage to get some of the simpler maintenance tasks done, although we are always happy to help at Martin Gilbert's and will change a light bulb for the cost of bulb or a wiper blade for the cost of the blade if you find it just too fiddly.

Classes will be held at:

Martin Gilbert Motor Repairs Ltd,
Radley Road Industrial Estate,
Abingdon, Oxfordshire OX14 3RY.

Band to rock joint

O'NEILL'S in Oxford will be rocking tomorrow night, Friday, January 22, as covers band Hustler entertains customers.

The High Wycombe-based group is due to visit the George Street pub to perform hits by artists such as Taylor Swift, Rihanna, Bruno Mars and Katy Perry, all with a strong rock influence.

And as well as covering well-known pop hits, the fivesome will also cover tracks from well-known rock and punk artists such as The Killers, Kings of Leon, Guns N' Roses and Stereophonics to keep with the rock theme.

Musician Steve Clark told the Guardian: "The greatest thing about performing is when we're playing and the whole venue is singing the songs back to you. Sometimes louder than we're playing them."

"We get a lot of people coming up to us at the end of our shows thanking us for playing songs they love that they haven't ever heard played live and that's really rewarding."

"Not everyone has the opportunity to go to gigs and check out their favourite bands, and there are some bands you simply can't see anymore due to them splitting up or musicians passing away."

"So it is nice to keep the legacy of these great songs alive by continuing to perform

By James Richings

them and getting the gratitude of the audience when we do that."

The gig tomorrow night will be band's second performance of the year, with the group scheduled to do another 32 throughout the year. However, that number is set to rise.

And despite the fact that the five friends travel all over the south of England to bring joy to hundreds of music enthusiasts, the group's members have to juggle their musical endeavours with their day jobs.

However, this does not stop them from pursuing their passion though, with Steve expecting tomorrow night to be a full house.

"I think we all wish we were full-time musicians, but we all have a wide and varied range of occupations such as art director, print firm owner, event planner, IT management and dolphin trainer," Steve said.

He added: "We also we love this venue."

"We've been playing here now for almost 12 years (apart from the year when O'Neill's became a no-band pub), and we're back again to kick off 2016!"

"Oxford O'Neill's has always been a good venue for us, the staff and management always welcome us back, and the punters too."

• Hustler in action

"There are faces in the crowd we recognise every time we play there that we've been seeing for years, and that's great."

The group's performance at the George Street venue is free, with the music starting at 10pm.

Tribute show

YES tribute band Yes Please! will be performing at the Players Theatre in Thame this Saturday, January 23.

The Oxford-based group visits the Nelson Street venue to perform hits such as 'Lift me Up' and 'The Calling'. Tickets cost £10 and the concert starts at 7.45pm.

Digance visits

COMEDIAN and folk musician Richard Digance will be appearing at Chipping Norton Theatre on Friday, January 29, at 7.45pm.

The 66-year-old Londoner, who has worked with the likes of Tom Jones, Steve Martin and the late Robin Williams, visits the Spring Street theatre to perform tracks off his 10 albums.

Tickets cost £16 or £14 for concessions.

Diamond show

VIVA Neil Diamond will be heading to The Mill Arts Centre in Banbury on Thursday, January 28.

The tribute act will see Bob Drury perform as the legendary singer, performing tracks such as 'Sweet Caroline', 'Forever in Blue Jeans' and 'Love on the Rocks'.

The Spiceball Park show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14.50.

'There's no day like today'

JONATHAN Larson's rock musical 'Rent' will be at the Oxford Playhouse from Wednesday, January 27 to Saturday, January 30.

Set in New York in the early 1990s, the musical tells the story of eight friends who are struggling to live and survive due to extreme poverty and an AIDS epidemic in the city.

However, all of the friends have an attitude of 'learn to live every minute because there's no day but today', which leads the eight chums to try and make use of the time that they have.

"It's just like a year in the life of eight friends really, and all the bits that this entails," said actress Eleanor Shaw.

"It's about friendship, and it's

By James Richings

about life and love and times in crisis. Oh, and dancing.

"I play Mimi Marquez. She's a 19-year-old erotic dancer who is passionate and romantic.

"She's got HIV but she's still a dreamer and wants to 'live each moment as her last'."

Written by composer and playwright Jonathan Larson in the early 1990s, the musical didn't make its stage debut until 1996 in New York.

It would go on to become one of the world's most successful musicals, with the show winning 13 honours including four Tony Awards.

The success and popularity also caught on outside the US, with the show being toured in countries such as Japan, Brazil, Australia, Spain and the UK, before being turned into a film in 2005.

However, despite the global popularity, Jonathan would not live to see the success of 'Rent'.

The 35-year-old died suddenly of an aortic dissection in his sleep on January 25, 1996, just one day after the musical's final dress rehearsal before its off-Broadway opening.

"Jonathan's message to the audience would have been, 'there is no day but today,'" Eleanor said.

"Ultimately no matter how dark everything is, you just have to take the time you are given and do as much with it as you can. It's clichéd but true."

She added: "Feeding off the audience's energy and feeling so present in the moment is one of the best things about performing.

"The characters and the storylines only really come alive when someone else is there who believes in it, and you get such a good connection with them when they do as well."

"When you both believe in something so much you make it real, and it's such a privilege to experience."

Tickets cost from £11.50 to £18, and the show is suitable for anyone over the age of 14.

That's Oxford TV what's on guide

Alex Iszatt brings you the latest local news and headlines Monday to Friday.

On the sofa this week:

Thursday, January 21: What the papers say - highlights from all the local newspapers.

Friday, January 22: We will be speaking to Songwriter Elliot Vanderhyde

Monday, January 25: We have no guest

Tuesday, January 26: Nicholas Newman, Energy specialist, to talk about energy

Wednesday, January 27: Grant Moreton tells us about child safety

Talk Oxford, the interactive talk show, starts at 7pm.

Thursday is business night with Beverley, Monday it is all about food with Robin, Tuesday, Simon asks the bigger questions and Emma-Jane talks Nutrition on Wednesdays.

Designed for needs of the commuter

ITALIAN car manufacturer Fiat has announced that the brand new Fiat 500 will join the Fiat Panda as the only two diesel-powered vehicles available in the city-car segment, in the UK.

Designed to suit the commuter's needs when driving on long journeys between congested destinations, the Fiat 500 has become one of the most popular cars on the British roads.

And with brand new features within the car, motorists will now have new gadgets to experiment with when going on their travels.

With a Start & Stop system, rapid engine warm-up, a variable oil pump displacement and smart alternator, the car has been designed to make sure that the driver's journey is efficient.

Producing 95bhp, the all-new car

By James Richings

has kept its sophistication from the previous 500, as the second-generation MultiJet car has also got a geometry turbo charger.

This performance ensures drivers that the Fiat 500 is responsive in all gears as the car can reach 62mph from a standstill in just 10.7 seconds, with a top speed of 112mph.

The Fiat also greatly reduces running costs and has vastly improved its eco-friendliness.

The Fiat has now got an official combined cycle fuel economy figure of 83.1mpg and CO2 emissions of just 89g/km.

Prices for the Fiat 500 start at £14,166 OTR for the hardtop 500 Pop Star, or £16,815 for the convertible 500C.

Finance provided by Dacia Finance, PO Box 149, Watford WD17 1FJ. Subject to status. Indemnities may be required. UK resident (excludes the Channel Islands). Over 18s. Terms and conditions apply. Offers cannot be used with other schemes or finance offers and are available on featured new vehicles when ordered by 31 March 2016 and registered by 30 June 2016 (excluding Access versions). We may introduce you to other finance providers. We may receive a commission from the finance providers. Offers based on 6000 miles per annum, excess mileage 8p per mile inc VAT. *Extended warranty applies to the models shown for up to 5 years or 60,000 miles, whichever comes first, when purchased on Dacia finance deposit contribution scheme (excluding Access versions). The extended warranty prolongs the warranty coverage from the date of first registration and expires on the first of the two limits reached. Warranty offer provides ongoing protection from mechanical and electrical failure after the standard manufacturer's warranty has expired and is valued at £395. The warranty plan is not transferable to another vehicle, but should the vehicle be sold while the warranty plan is still active, the remaining cover transfers to the new owner. Visit shop.dacia.co.uk/ product/5-year-extended-warranty for full terms and conditions. *Deposit contributions shown are available to new Dacia Finance customers, when taking Dacia finance on a new Dacia Sandero, Dacia Sandero Stepway, Dacia Logan MCV or Dacia Duster (excluding Access versions). Vehicles shown with optional metallic paint at an additional £495.

Appleton shuns talk of potential Bristol move

MICHAEL Appleton has shunned the prospect of leaving Oxford United, despite talk of the manager being picked up by Bristol City.

Bookmakers installed Appleton as the favourite to take the hotspot at Ashton Gate over the weekend and that speculation intensified with the news that former U's chief executive Mark Ashton had become chief operations officer for City.

However the former Manchester United midfielder has distanced himself from a move, stating that he's happy with his current club.

He said: "I'm absolutely delighted being here."

"I'm actually in the middle of discussing a long-term contract with [executive chairman] Darryl Eales at the moment, so from that point of view I couldn't be any happier right now."

Appleton is still listed as one of the favourites for the job, alongside former England under-21's head coach Stuart Pearce and interim boss John Pemberton.

Ashton followed Appleton's lead however in dispelling talk

By Loughlan Campbell

of his former colleague moving to Bristol in an interview with ITV News on Monday.

He said: "I can kill that speculation as I can understand that people would assume that as I recruited Michael into Oxford."

"Michael is a very talented individual and a head coach that I think will have a very successful career ahead of him, but for now I think the coach for Bristol City will be a different fit."

The 40-year-old joined Oxford United in July 2014 and after having a full pre-season for the first time with a side, has led Oxford to a promotion charge in League Two, into the fourth round of the FA Cup and a potential trip to Wembley in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy final if they can finish the job over Millwall next month.

His performance as Oxford manager has earned rave reviews but Appleton insisted that 'he's got a job to do' with United.

Appleton will take the U's down to Fratton Park on Saturday to face Portsmouth.

Oxford reward upcoming starlet after nine years of youth football

AN Oxford United Women midfielder has signed her first professional deal with the club after joining 10 years ago.

Sophie Baker, 19, has been with the club since she was in the under 10's development side and has since progressed to the first team squad.

Baker began her playing career at the age of five for Abingdon Youth Boys before moving on to the Saxton Rovers Boys and then joined the Oxford United's Centre of Excellence.

She progressed through each age group from the Under 12's to the Under 17's and then has since been on to the WSL development team.

Sophie said: "I was so excited to be able to play with girls like me when I was 10. I just remember seeing my future coaches stood there with a clipboard judging my every move!"

"I wanted to prove myself so much, little did I know this was going to last 9 years."

Her new manager Les Taylor said: "Sophie fully deserves the chance to impress in WSL2. She has been an outstanding prospect all the way through the age groups.

"She has a great attitude, works very hard for the team and just as importantly, listens and wants to keep improving as a player."

Baker joins the first team on the back of a strong season for the first team who finished fifth in the table.

Greens into cup's last 16

KIDLINGTON sent fans home dizzy with delight on Sunday after they beat Knaphill 3-1 to secure a place in the fourth round of the FA Vase at Yarnton Road.

The Greens seemed fired up from the start for the game and dominated possession in the early stages with Anacle Odhiambo and Ryan Brooks both testing the Knaphill keeper.

In the 18th minute, the home side's patience was rewarded as Gabbidon fed the ball in to Odhiambo and the forward chipped home to open the scoring.

However, the Greens were very lucky to maintain their lead after the Woking-based side charged forwards and Kidlington keeper Sam Warrell had to fend off a vicious effort in the 27th minute.

Things seemed too good to be true for the home side just seven minutes later after Henry Owen rose highest to head home after Eric Odhiambo knocked in a corner.

In the second half, Knaphill camped in the Kidlington half and they got their dues on 78 minutes, with Danny Taylor chipping the ball home for 2-1.

Although, Eric Odhiambo then put the game to bed, running with the ball from his own half to round the keeper before tapping home the clincher to seal the win.

U's burn out in Rovers loss

KEMAR ROOFE netted once again as Oxford United fell to a 2-1 defeat to Bristol Rovers in the bitter cold at the Kassam Stadium on Sunday.

The forward grabbed his fifth goal in his last three appearances as the Yellow's lost all three points despite a valiant performance in what was their first home defeat since October.

Matty Taylor found Bristol's goal shortly after Roofs' opener at the start of the second half with the away side pushing the U's all the way, and Ellis Harrison sealed the win in controversial circumstances late on after Jermaine Easter was brought down in the box by Sam Slocombe.

Oxford's Ryan Taylor headed wide with 11 minutes on the clock after the U's broke with a fast-paced counter-attack as George Baldock continued his trend to run rampantly down the right flank.

United keeper Sam Slocombe had to be quick to catch a fizzing header from Tom Lockyer on 15 minutes after a corner was swept into the box.

Just a minute later Bristol had a golden chance after Chris Line's corner was knocked on

By Loughlan Campbell

and Taylor headed over.

Slocombe then made a fine save to deny Lines from 25 yards out who unleashed an effort after finding space with 22 minutes on the clock.

Oxford took the lead straight after the restart as Lundstram stroked the ball into the box from a corner and Kemar Roofs tapped in from close range.

Just six minutes later Bristol got a lucky equaliser after Taylor headed in after Daniel Leadbitter whipped in a dangerous cross in a swift counter-attack.

There was a controversial moment in the 78th minute with O'Dowda flattened in the penalty area but referee Nicholas Kinsley ruled no spot kick before Lundstram forced Steve Hildenhall into a fine one-handed save with a long-range shot.

Slocombe was then alleged to have brought down substitute Easter on 86 minutes and Harrison, also a substitute hammered past Slocombe with United looking aggrieved having dominated possession as Bristol took home all three points.

See oxfordshireguardian.co.uk for the full report.

Nine defeats in a row for Freds

WANTAGE Town's troubles continued on Saturday as they fell to their ninth consecutive defeat in a row in a 5-0 defeat at Taunton Town.

The Freds were kicking the ball out of the back of the net in under two minutes after Lewis Powell tapped in after Jamie Short's whipped in cross.

Things did not get better for the Freds as the Peacocks dominated possession of the ball and went further ahead on 29 minutes when player-manager Stuart Cattell deflected the ball into his own net from Jordan Rogers' shot.

Only three minutes later and it was three for the Peacocks as the ball was sent to the far post of the Wantage goal before being cleared out to Charlie Hitchings who stroked the ball home.

There was no luck for Wantage in the second half as on the hour mark they fell further behind when Owen Irish shrugged off his marker and powered home a header from a corner.

Wantage couldn't find any real opportunities to get themselves on to the scoresheet and on 91 minutes, it was five for the home side.

Freds' keeper Ed Cavanagh went out to collect the ball on the edge of the area only for it to bounce off him into the waiting feet of substitute Craig Veal to tap home into the empty net to round out the scoring.

Cattell's side are one place and one point above Burnham who are in the relegation zone.

Oxford snatch up duo

OXFORD RL have made a double signing ahead of their upcoming season in the Kingstone Press League 1.

Scrum half Jorge Richardson and forward Kris Ford have joined up with the Blues squad ahead of the action all kicking off from March.

Richardson has a strong rugby league pedigree, attracting interest from both Super League and Championship teams before joining Oxford from Featherstone.

Ford is a product of the Southampton Spitfires, like Captain Andrew Hoggins and excelled in the open trial sessions with the club back in November.

Head coach Tim Rumford said of Richardson: "We've been aware of Jorge for a while and we think the time's right for him to step up a level.

"He is a smart young player who I feel needs first grade rugby and a positive environment to really get the best out of him."

In relation to Ford, Rumford added: "Seeing him first hand, he looks a strong competitor. There's work to be done but if he meets the fitness levels expected, I think he can have a lot to offer the team."

Richardson said: "I'm enjoying the sessions, the lads have been welcoming and the coaches are very positive.

"It's an opportunity I'm grateful for and I'm determined to make the best of it for both the team and myself."

Ford added: "Getting the call that Oxford were interested in me was amazing and I'm so thankful."

Six in a row for Witney

AN action-packed first half saw Witney RFC overcome Oxfordshire rivals Oxford Harlequins in a tightly contested 11-7 win at the Hailey Road ground on Saturday.

On a cloudless day, the two sides butted horns in an enthralling opening period with the Quins gaining the upper hand inside nine minutes.

With the Blues offside from a ruck, the Quins snatched a line out on Witney's 22 and centre Kenny Fisiula barrelled his way across the line with Sam Watkins adding the extras.

Witney's number eight Charlie Bennett then broke forward, storming 20 metres down the pitch before the Quins went off-side at the ruck.

Fly half Henry Lamb converted the penalty before the home side won another penalty straight after which led to a line out as the Blues stormed forward and full back Matt Clarke charged over the line.

The Blues led 8-7 at that point and the home side then won a penalty after the Quins stopped a release with Lamb converting to make it 11-7.

Towards the end of the half Witney's second row remained solid and the Quins were penned back when Richard Haire had his try disallowed on the half-time whistle.

The game quieted down in the second half with Witney able to block the Quins' forward line and the Blues secured their sixth consecutive win.

Their recent run has propelled them up the table to third in the South West 1 East and the Blues are only three points behind second-placed Salisbury. Witney face table-toppers Trowbridge on Saturday.

Close encounter

ICE HOCKEY: It was a disappointing match for Oxford City Stars at Oxpens Road on Sunday after they were beaten 4-3 by Chelmsford Chieftains.

The Stars dominated the encounter but were unlucky in the end with Ondrej Pekarik grabbing a brace and Benjamin Ealey-Newman also netting.

Oxford remain fifth in the NIHL South 1 on 24 points, five points behind the Wightlink Raiders.

Frosty win

HOCKEY: Most of the games for Oxford Hockey Club were frozen off at the weekend, but the women's thirds recorded a superb 3-2 win over Newbury & Thatcham's thirds on Saturday.

A brace from Christy Barnard and Hie Sawyer got the goals for Oxford which sees them leapfrog Newbury to the head of the Trysports Premier 2 table.

In the men's, Oxford's thirds drew 3-3 with Bicester's thirds whilst Oxford's fifth's were beaten 5-0 by Harrow's thirds.

U's draw Rovers

OXFORD: Tickets are selling fast for Oxford's fourth round encounter with Blackburn Rovers at the Kassam Stadium next Saturday.

The two sides are set to meet after Rovers overcame Newport County on Monday night in their third round replay to win 2-1.

Oxford historically beat Blackburn 3-1 to reach the quarter-finals of the tournament back in February 1964 in front of 21,700 fans at the Manor.

Late goal dent's City's cup hopes

OXFORD City faced off in a FA Trophy second round replay with Cheltenham Town last night after the Blues were stunned by a last minute equaliser at Marsh Lane on Saturday.

City came into the weekend's encounter pumped up but the visitors and Alejandro-Adrian Santiago's header was cleared off the Cheltenham line with just a few minutes gone.

Cheltenham came close shortly afterwards through Lewis Thompson who dragged his effort well wide of the post when sent through on the counter.

City forward Conor McDonagh

nearly netted halfway through the half when he was played in by Carlos Piffare but the striker couldn't squeeze the ball in.

It was around the hour mark when Oxford finally opened the scoring, with substitutes Bradley Bubb and Kynan Isaac combining well as the former tapped home the latter's cross.

Oxford looked all set to hold on to the lead but in the 84th minute, Cheltenham hit back through Niall Rowe, who after being left unmarked, smashed home.

However, City were not to be disheartened and Marlon Jackson restored their lead after Bubb had an effort blocked.

But that wasn't to be the end of the contest as Oxford's Jose Lapoujade left space for Karnell Chambers to cross the ball in for Bobbie Dale to bundle the ball home.

City dropped out of the play-off places in the National League South at the weekend with their competitors playing league games. The club are two points behind Gosport Borough in fifth who have played a game more than the Blues.

The Oxfordshire Guardian went to print as city's replay with Cheltenham took place at Whaddon Road last night.

U's keep battling against the drop

ABINGDON United's relegation fight continues to rage on after they were defeated 2-0 by Highworth Town at the Northcourt on Saturday.

Callum Parsons and TJ Bohane got the goals for the away side, although Abingdon were unlucky not to get more from the game after upping their performance in the second half.

United's keeper Jack Griffiths had to be alive to the task from the start in order to keep out Parsons early on.

With a quarter of an hour gone, the Worthians were in front after Brad Clark delivered a ball into Parsons, who skilfully found himself some space before firing in off the upright.

Parsons nearly made it two when he found space once more and curled a shot that was just pushed onto the bar and over by Griffiths.

United's John Dennis should have done better after forcing an opening for himself down the left, but his shot went safely into Highworth keeper Kurtis Sharkey's hands.

Siyanda Gila then had a great chance for Abingdon, skipping past the Worthian defence before firing an effort goal-bound that was tipped past the post by Sharkey.

Shortly after the restart Highworth should have doubled their lead when Bohane's cross was headed on by Richie Saunders, but Griffiths once again pulled off an outstanding save.

Abingdon came close once more in the 75th minute after Adam Hazell unleashed an effort just outside the box, before Sharkey pulled off a stunning save to keep his side in front.

As the game headed into added time, Abingdon were then dealt another blow after the referee pointed to the spot when Bohane was brought down in the box.

The forward stepped up and coolly slotted past Griffiths to seal the win for Highworth, with the referee calling time shortly afterwards.

The result means United stay in 17th in the Hellenic Premier and four points off safety, having played 30 games this season.
